

Find the policy that applies to your product or account.

This guide points to the full policy documents linked from farmermind.ai. It is a navigation aid, not a replacement for those documents or the terms accepted at checkout.

Website accounts and personal information

Privacy Policy explains the published privacy terms. Website accounts, applications, uploaded company information and payment processing involve online services. Do not interpret offline software functionality as a promise that website or account data never leaves your device.

Use of the site, software and hardware

Terms of Use describes the general published terms. License Agreement contains the software license terms for the products identified in that document. The currently linked versions include FarmerMind AI Cube hardware and embedded-software provisions; do not assume every hardware restriction applies to every standalone app. Check the terms supplied with your edition or ask support.

Hardware warranty and purchases

Warranty Policy covers the devices and conditions identified in that policy. This guide does not extend or remove a warranty. Check the product listing, checkout, delivery, return and warranty terms for the specific purchase; software, hardware and memberships are different offerings.

Company profiles, advertising and memberships

Advertising Disclosure explains company review, content responsibilities, advertising labels, current website-click reporting and the four membership options. Submission does not purchase a plan or begin a trial. Business verification and approval precede eligibility. Website publication and Desktop or Android release are separate.

Renewal, cancellation and support

For Wix company memberships, use My Subscriptions and the cancellation terms shown at checkout. For a purchase through an app store or another channel, use that channel's applicable purchase and cancellation process. Ask support if the correct route is unclear. Do not assume that canceling renewal guarantees a refund.

Read the full terms before acceptance

The linked Terms of Use and Advertising Disclosure contain dispute-resolution, arbitration and class-action provisions. Their scope, deadlines and opt-out instructions differ; read the document that applies to your agreement. This guide does not alter those provisions.

Contact: info@farmermind.ai | +1 252 465 3013

FarmerMind AI LLC, 13423 Blanco Road #542, San Antonio, TX 78216, United States

Guide v4.0 replaces the prior reference card. Direct document links above avoid reliance on unverified /legal routes.